GENERAL INDEX.

INDEX OF AUTHORS.

VOLS. I. TO VII.

ALT, AD. A Case of Cleft Palate, with Acquired Deaf-Muteism. Staphylorrhaphy. Recovery, VI. 569.

—— A Case of Endothelioma of the Intervaginal Space of the Optic Nerve. Removal with Attempt to Preserve the Eyeball. Subsequent Enucleation on Account of Uncontrollable Hemorrhage. Remarks, VI. 367.

—— Clinical Report of 3,873 Eye-Patients, treated at the N. Y. Ophthalmic and Aural Institute, VI. 170.

—— Contribution to the Pathological Anatomy of the Human Eye, VI. 304, 345.

—— On the Anatomical Causes and the Nature of Sympathetic Ophthalmia, V. 395.

—— On the Anatomical Changes following Iridectomy, IV. 423.

AUB, JOSEPH. Contributions to the Clinical History of Injuries of the Eyeball and its Surroundings, II. i. 187.

—— Do the Eyes perform any Rotation on the Optic Axes in Lateral Inclinations of the Head? I. 659.

AYRES, S. C. Five Cases of Sympathetic Ophthalmia, V. 221.

BARKAN, A. A Case of Filaria Medinensis in the Anterior Chamber, V. 151.

—— A small Piece of Steel, penetrating through the Cornea and Pupil into the Lens, successfully removed by the Extraction of the Cataractous Lens five Months later, IV. 231.

BARKAN, A. Embolism of a Branch of the Central Retinal Artery, III. i. 33.

BECKER, OTTO. On Retinitis Leucæmica, I. 341.

—— The Diagnosis of Intraocular Sarcomata, I. 694.

BERLIN, R. Two Cases of Extraction of a Foreign Body from the Corpus Vitreum, I. 30.

BLAKE, C. J. Statistical Report of 1,652 Cases of Diseases of the Ear, III. i. 84.

—— A New Form of Wire Snare for the Removal of Aural Polypi, modified from that of Wilde, I. 435.

—— Living Larvæ in the Human Ear, II. ii. 37.

—— Manometric Cicatrix of the Membrana Tympani, V. 280.

—— Otological Review, IV. 126, 309, 518; V. 114, 283, 564; VI. 336; VII. 109, 512.

—— The Use of the Membrana Tympani as a Phonautograph and Logograph, V. 108; VII. 457.

BOETTCHER, ARTHUR. On the Changes in the Retina and Labyrinth in a Case of Fibro-Sarcoma of the Auditory Nerve, III. i. 134.

BRESGEN, H. A Case of Congenital Symmetrical Defect of both Crystalline Lenses, IV. 227.

BROWN, SARA E. Removal of twenty-eight small Gravel-stones which had lain in both External Auditory Canals for seven Years. Recovery, III. ii. 88.

BRUNNER, GUSTAV. On Alterations in the Hearing of One's own Voice, II. i. 107.

—— On Vertigo, occurring in Affections of the Ear (Auditory Vertigo), II. i. 293.

—— Supplement, concerning the Origin of the Acoustic Nerve in the Brain, II. ii. 312.

—— The Connections between the Ossicles of Hearing, III. ii. 145.

BUCK, ALBERT H. Case of Angioma Cavernosum, Situated in the External Auditory Canal, and Attached by a Slender Pedicle to the Manubrium Mallei, II. i. 72.

—— Diseases of the Mastoid Process; their Diagnosis, Pathology, and Treatment, III. i. 172.

—— On the Mechanism of the Ossicles of the Ear, I. 603.

BULL, CHAS. S. Abstracts made from the Ophthalmological Literature Published in the United States of America during the Year 1877, and the first six Months of 1878, VII. 441.

BURNETT, CHARLES H. A Case of Myringomycosis Aspergillina, illustrative of the typical Features of that Disease mentioned in the foregoing Paper, IV. 121.

—— An Investigation concerning the Mechanism of the Ossicles of Hearing, and the Membrane of the Round Window, II. ii. 45.

—— Three Cases of Tinnitus Aurium and Deafness, accompanied by very Distinct Flushing of the Cutaneous Surface adjacent to the Ear, IV. 503.

BURNETT, SWAN M. Abstract from American Otological Literature during the year 1878, VII. 506.

BURNETT, SWAN M. A Case of Choroiditis Exsudativa, accompanied with Partial Micropsia, Metamorphopsia, and Chromatopsic Scotomata of Singularly Regular Forms, VI. 460.

—— A Case of Diplacusis Binauralis, V. 527.

—— A Case of Restricted Range of Audition, V. 532.

—— A Case of Rudimentary Iris in both Eyes, IV. 402.

—— Double Optic Neuritis (Choked Disc) and Sloughing of the Right Cornea, accompanying a Sarcomatous Tumor on the Right Side of the Brain, VI. 469.

CHAPMAN, JAS. A Case of Epithelial Cancer of the Conjunctiva, IV. 235.

CHISOLM, J. J. Intraocular Enchondroma, of Twenty-two Years' Growth, removed at the Baltimore Eye and Ear Infirmary, III. i. 1.

COHN, HERMANN. Amblyopia and Paralysis of the Ocular Muscles in Diabetes, VII. 148.

COLSMAN. Observations on Cases of Paralyzed Accommodation, II. i. 154.

DELAFIELD, FRANCIS. Tumors of the Retina, II. i. 58.

DENNETT, WM. S. Astigmatism. The Fundus of Astigmatic Eyes. An Attachment to the Ophthalmoscope, V. 505.

DERBY, HASKET. Report on Sixty-four Cataract Extractions, according to the Method of von Graefe, III. i. 74.

DIETL, M. J. Contribution to the Knowledge of the Finer Structure of the External Segments of the Rods in the Frog's Retina, VII. 121.

DRIVER. On the Treatment of some Eye Diseases by Means of the Constant Current, III. i. 226.

ELSBERG, L. On the Employment of the Nasal Douche, II. i. 177.
EMMERT, EMIL. Ophthalmological Communications, VI. 524.
ERB, W. The Galvanic Reaction of the Nervous Apparatus of Hearing in Condition of Health and Disease. Contribution to Electro-Otiatrics, I. 232.
—— The Galvanic Treatment of Diseases of the Eye and Ear, II. ii. 228.

GOUVÉA, H. DE. Contributions to the Pathology of Burns of the Cornea from Lime, I. 208.
GRUENING, EMIL. A Case of Myxoma of the Optic Nerve. Removal of the Growth with Preservation of the Eyeball, V. 508.
—— A Case of Vascular Protrusion of Both Eyeballs, most probably from Arterio-Venous Communication in the Cavernous Sinus; Ligation of the Left Common Carotid. Recovery, V. 40.
—— Exophthalmus Dexter Appearing during Inclination of the Body Forward, and Disappearing in the Erect Position, III. i. 23.
—— Leptothrix in the Upper Canaliculus, III. i. 17.
—— Note to the Case of Vascular Protrusion of Both Eyeballs, arising from Intra-cranial Aneurismal Varix, V. 513.
—— On Peripheral Division of the Capsule in Morgagnian Cataract, VII. 53.
—— Ophthalmological Review, IV. 250, 460.
—— Spongy Exudation in the Anterior Chamber, III. i. 20.
—— Two Cases of Emphysema of the Orbit, Eyelids, and Adjacent Parts, II. i. 184.
GRUENING, EMIL, and H. KNAPP. Ophthalmological Review, IV. 143; V. 63, 230; VI. 324, 551; VII. 57, 449.

HACK, WILLIAM. Hyperostosis of Both Petrous Bones; Bony Closure of the Left Round Window, of the Right Upper and the Left Upper, and Posterior Semicircular Canals, II. ii. 301.
HARTMAN, ARTHUR. Hearing Tests and Politzer's Uniform Acoumeter, VI. 603.
HASNER. The Reduced Eye, VII. 139.
HASSLOCH, WILLIAM. Researches on the Microscopical Structure of the Cornea, VII. 3.
HAY, G. On the Analytical Conditions of that Form of Astigmatic Pencil in which the two Focal Lines are Perpendicular each to the Axis of the Pencil, and also to each other, and on the Correction of such Pencil by a Plano-Cylindrical Lens, V. 497.
—— Special Application to the Case of the Eye of Knapp's General Formulæ for Astigmatic Rays, II. i. 79.
HEYDENREICH, L. A Foreign Body in the External Auditory Canal Causing Reflex Nervous Symptoms—Reflex Hemicrania, VI. 333.
HILDRETH, J. S. Anæsthesia of the Cornea, and Concurrent Diminution of the Action of Atropia on the Iris, I. 455.
HINTON, JAMES. Two Cases of Inflammation of the Tympanum, with Development of Polypus; one ending fatally, I. 58.
HIRSCHBERG, J. A Contribution to the Calculations in Ophthalmometry, IV. 207.
—— Clinical and Anatomical Observations. Cysticercus Intraocularis. Sarcoma of the Lower Eyelid. Gli-oma Retinæ in the First Stage, II. ii. 11.

HIRSCHBERG, J. Contributions to the Therapeutics of Conjunctivitis Diphtheritica, IV. 223.

—— Contribution to the Pathology of Glioma Retinæ, II. ii. 29.

—— Corneal Tumor with Multiple Cutaneous Tumors of the Same Structure (Fibroma Lipomatodes), IV. 355.

—— Cysticercus Intraocularis, I. 639.

—— Engorged Papilla in Consequence of Solitary Tubercle in the Cerebellum, II. ii. 26.

—— Historical Notice on Sympathetic Ophthalmia, V. 393.

—— Observations upon the Pathology and Therapeutics of Glaucoma, IV. 202.

—— On Glioma Retinæ, II. ii. 21.

—— On the Coefficients of Refraction of the Fluid Media of the Human Eye, IV. 210.

—— On the Determination of the Field of Fixation, IV. 372.

—— On the Determination of the Field of Vision, IV. 366.

—— On the Question of the Decussation of the Optic Nerves, V. 188.

—— The Statistics of the Operations for Cataract, IV. 452.

—— and DR. STEINHEIM. Granulation Tumors of the Iris, I. 647.

HOCK, J. On Tattooing the Cornea, with Remarks on the Etiology of Glaucoma, V. 382.

—— Ophthalmoscopic Conditions in Basilar Meningitis of Infants, V. 60.

HOLMES, E. L. Position of the Globes when the Lids are Closed, IV. 408.

—— Thirteen Cases of Ocular Tumor, with a Case of Tumor of the Optic Nerve and a Case of Panophthalmitis with a Clot simulating a Tumor, VI. 291.

HOLMES, E. L. Three Cases of Neuro-Retinitis, with a Symptom of Intracranial Aneurism, IV. 393.

HOTZ, F. C. A Case of Downward Strabismus from Congenital Paralysis of the Superior Rectus Muscle; Advancement of this Muscle and Tenotomy of the Inferior Rectus, IV. 399.

KAISER, H. On the Theory of Binocular Vision, I. 186.

—— The Mechanism of the Organ of Hearing, I. 664.

KERZENDORFER, CHARLES. Two Cases of Penetrating Wound of the Sclerotic cured by Catgut Suture, VII. 403.

KEYSER, P. On the Measurement of the Prominence of the Eye, I. 431.

KIPP, CHARLES J. A Case of Pearly Tumor (Cholesteatoma) in both Ears, IV. 123.

—— A Case of Primary Sarcoma of the Iris, Cured by Excision of the Tumor, V. 34.

—— Clinical Observations, III. i. 70.

KNAPP, H. A Case of Carcinoma of the Outer Sheath of the Optic Nerve, Removed with Preservation of the Eyeball, IV. 323.

—— A Case of Extirpation of a Cancroid Growth of the Inner Canthus and Upper Eyelid. Blepharoplasty by Sliding Flaps, I. 424.

—— A Case of Glioma Retinæ, Operated on at an Early Stage, and Exhibiting some New and Peculiar Anatomical Conditions, II. i. 36.

—— A Case of Neuro-Retinitis resulting from a Gummy Tumor of the Dura Mater, IV. 245.

—— A Case of Pterygium Superius, II. i. 54.

—— A Case of Spongy (Fibrinous) Irido-Choroiditis, Affecting both Eyes at an Interval of Seven Months, VII. 49.

KNAPP, H. A Clinical Analysis of the Inflammatory Affections of the Inner Ear, II. i. 204.
—— A Method of Operating for the Cleft Lobule of the Ear, III. i. 254.
—— A New Ophthalmoscope, with a Single Disc, IV. 41.
—— Anthrax of the Inner Side of the Lower Eyelid, V. 28.
—— Blindness from Ischæmia Retinæ in Hooping Cough, IV. 448.
—— Case of Orbital Cancroid with Histological Peculiarities, I. 132.
—— Detachment of the Retina, caused by the Medicinal Use of Whiskey, V. 32.
—— Double-sided Simple Iridectomy, terminating in Sloughing of the Cornea, IV. 445.
—— Embolism of a Branch of the Retinal Artery with Hemorrhagic Infarctus in the Retina, I. 64.
—— Embolism of Branches of the Central Retinal Artery, III. i. 36.
—— Epicanthus and its Treatment, III. i. 48.
—— Formation of Bone in the Eye, II. i. 1.
—— How the Movements of the Eyes may be Utilized in Diagnosticating One-sided Blindness, IV. 361.
—— Improved Lid Forceps, especially for the Operation of Entropium, III. i. 257.
—— Intraocular Hemorrhage, with Formation of Amyloid Bodies in the Extravasated Blood and Amyloid Degeneration of the Choroidal Arteries, III. ii. 115.
—— Isolated Rupture of the Choroid, Resulting from Concussion of the Eyeball, I. 149.
—— Large Cyst of the Iris, cured by Operation, I. 411.
—— Large Orbital Sarcoma, removed with Preservation of the Eyeball. Death from Acute Nephritis. Autopsy, V. 131.
KNAPP, H. Melanotic Sarcoma of the Ciliary Body and Adjoining Choroid, I. 490.
—— Notes on Ophthalmological and Otological Subjects, made during a Journey through Europe, II. ii. 153.
—— On Fibroma of the Lobule of the Ear, IV. 511.
—— On the Diagnosis of One-sided Deafness, IV. 506.
—— On the Operations for Traumatic Colobomata of the Eyelids, V. 18.
—— On the Operative Treatment of Vascular Tumors of the Eyelids and Anterior Parts of the Orbit, V. 514.
—— Ophthalmoscopic Optometry, and Description of a new Ophthalmoscope, III. ii. 1.
—— Peripheral Division of the Capsule, Preliminary Communication, VI. 545.
—— Purulent Otitis Media, caused by the Nasal Douche, and Accompanied by Double Hearing, I. 365.
—— Report and Remarks on a Fourth and a Fifth Hundred of Cataract Extractions, according to von Graefe's Method, VI. 7.
—— Report and Remarks on a Third Series of One Hundred Cases of Cataract Extraction by the Peripheric-linear Method, I. 103.
—— Some Observations and Remarks on the Action of Eserine in Glaucoma, VII. 39.
—— Supplement to the Description of an Improved Lid-Forceps, III. ii. 220.
—— Systematic Method for Treating and Recording the Acuteness of Hearing, III. i. 220.
—— The Influence of Spectacles on the Optical Constants and Visual Acuteness of the Eye, I. 377.

KNAPP, H. The Removal of Foreign Bodies from the Interior of the Eye, VII. 311.
—— Three Cases of Tenotomy of the Superior and Inferior Recti, with Comments, IV. 20.
——Two Cases of Retinal Glioma, IV. 241.
—— and ARGYLL ROBERTSON. Sarcoma of the Iris, III. ii. 106.
—— and CHAS. S. TURNBULL. A Case of Glioma of the Retina, with numerous Subperiosteal Metastatic Tumors, IV. 1.
—— and E. GRUENING. Ophthalmological Review, IV. 143 ; V. 63, 230; VI. 324, 551 ; VII. 57.
—— and E. WILLIAMS. Two Peculiar Cases of Sarcoma of the Choroid, IV. 11.
—— and J. THOMPSON. A Case of Retinal Glioma, distinguished Clinically by a Family Predisposition to Glioma, and Anatomically by the obvious Origin of the Disease in the Inner Granular Layer, IV. 7.
KNIES, MAX. On the Nutrition of the Eye and the Avenues of Exit of the Intraocular Humors.—Critical and Experimental Investigations, VII. 347
—— Sixteen Cases of Sarcoma of the Choroid, with Epicritic Remarks, VI. 376.
KORTÜM, H. F. B. Contributions to the Pathology of Choroiditis, III. ii. 91.

LANDESBERG, M. Clinical Contributions to Ophthalmology, III. i. 58.
—— Clinico-Ophthalmological Contributions, IV. 33.
—— On Keratitis Bullosa, VI. 135.
—— On the Etiology and Prophylaxis of Blindness, VI. 483.
—— On the Pathology of the Sympathetic Nerve, VII. 408.
LAQUEUR. A Case of Ossification of the Choroid, with the Ophthalmoscopic Appearances, VI. 284.
LIEBREICH, R. A Modification of the Advancement of the Muscle, I. 25.
—— On a Modification of Iridectomy Forceps, I. 22.
LOEWENBERG. On the Derangements of Motion following Division of the Semicircular Canals, III. ii. 26.
LORING, E. G. Anomalous Circulation in the Eye, II. ii., 1.
—— The Light-Streak seen in the Centre of the Retinal Vessels with the Ophthalmoscope, II. i. 95.

MAUTHNER, L. Glaucoma Aphorisms, VII. 179.
MICHAEL, J. On the Use of Nitrite of Amyl in Diseases of the Ear, V. 535.
MOOS, S. A Case of Idiopathic Diphtheria of the External Meatus, I. 634.
—— A Case of Sarcoma of the Left Auditory Nerve, with Fatty Metamorphosis and Partial Destruction of the Organ of Corti, IV. 483.
—— Alterations of Taste and Sensibility in the Tongue by the Application of an Artificial Tympanum in a Case of Large Perforations in both Membranæ Tympani, I. 140.
—— Another Case of Fatty Metamorphosis of the Organ of Corti, due to other Causes than Sarcoma, IV. 497.
—— A Preliminary Notice on the Anatomy and Physiology of the Eustachian Tube, I. 717.
—— A Simple Expedient for the Diagnosis of One-sided Simulated Deafness, I. 325.
—— Case of Contraction of the Left Tensor Tympani, Synchronous with the Act of Mastication, II. i. 357.
—— Contributions to the Pathology and Pathological Anatomy of the Organ of Hearing, III. ii. 173; VII. 465.

Moos, S. Four Cases of Gunshot Wounds of the Ear, II. i. 343.

—— Histological Changes in the Labyrinth in Certain Infectious Diseases, V. 245.

—— Historical and Critical Remarks concerning the Deafness following Meningitis Cerebro-Spinalis, I. 621.

—— Hyperostosis of the Cranium and Petrous Bones. Peculiar Malformation of the Apparatus of the Middle Ear. Anchylosis of Both Stirrups. Osseous Closure of the Left Fenestra Rotunda, II. i. 127.

—— Investigations on the Relation between the Handle of the Malleus and the Membrana Tympani, I. 282.

—— Minor Otological Communications, III. i. 103.

—— On a Case of Enlargement of the Bulbus Venæ Jugularis Cerebralis, and its Relation to the Development of Hallucinations of Hearing, IV. 478.

—— On Defective Perception of certain Consonants, combined with a Similar Defect as regards High Musical Notes; with the Physiological Significance of the Same, IV. 469.

—— On the Blood-vessels and the Circulation in the Membrana Tympani and the Manubrium Mallei: a Series of Investigations, VI. 574.

—— On the Combined Occurrence of Affections of the Organs of Sight and Hearing, VII. 481.

—— On the Medico-legal Significance of Atrophy of the Tympanum, produced by hardened Cerumen, I. 321.

—— Pathological Observations on the Physiological Significance of the Higher Musical Tones, III. i. 113.

—— Peculiar Disturbances of Hearing after Cerebro-spinal Meningitis. Considerable Improvement by the Galvanic Current, I. 332.

Moos, S. Rare Anomalies, both Congenital and Acquired, Occurring in the Ears of a Deaf-Mute, II. i. 139.

—— Recovery of Complete Nervous Deafness, I. 464.

—— Serous Accumulations in the Tympanum, I. 556.

—— Sudden Hemorrhage into the Right Tympanum, accompanying Angina Diphtheritica. Protracted Recovery, I. 628.

—— Symmetrical Formation of Exostoses in Both External Auditory Canals of Man, II. i. 136.

—— The Connection between Epileptiform Phenomena and Diseases of the Ear, V. 102.

—— The Diagnosis of Complete Paralysis of the Auditory Nerve. A Contribution to the Pathology of the Medulla Oblongata, II. i. 199.

—— The Dilatation of the Bulbus Venæ Jugularis and its Relation to Auditory Hallucinations, V. 561.

—— The Histological Changes of the Eustachian Tube in Chronic Catarrh, V. 542.

—— The Presence of Colloid Masses in the Labyrinth of Children, V. 559.

—— Two Cases of Ear Diseases in Court—Doubtful Responsibility, I. 306.

—— Two Fatal Cases of Ear Disease, I. 296.

Nieden. On the Treatment of Ulcus Corneæ Serpens, III. i. 238.

Noyes, Henry D. Dislocation of the Crystalline into the Corpus Vitreum and afterwards into the Anterior Chamber. The Effect of Refraction, I. 37.

PAGENSTECHER, ALEXANDER. A Tear-stone in the Canaliculus Lachrymalis Inferior, II. ii. 219.

PAGENSTECHER, H. On the Pathology of the Vitreous, I. 500.

PFLÜGER, E. Contributions to Ophthalmo-Tonometry, II. ii. 91.

—— Hyoscyamine, V. 333.

PLENK, F. Hemiopia and Optic Decussation, V. 191.

POOLEY, J. H. Case of Epithelioma of the Cheek and Lower Eyelid—Removal—Blepharoplasty, III. i. 40.

POOLEY, THOS. R. A Case of Corectopia, III. i. 26.

—— An Ordinary Strabismus Operation, followed by Tendinitis; Perforation of the Sclerotic; Detachment of Retina; Recovery, IV. 410.

—— Injury of the Left Eye; Sympathetic Ophthalmia of the Right; Loss of Vision in the Eye secondarily Affected; Vision retained in the Injured Eye, I. 553.

—— Keratitis Vesiculosa, with secondary Glaucoma, IV. 46.

—— Right-sided Binocular Hemiopia, depending upon a Gummy Tumor in the Left Posterior Lobe of the Brain, V. 148.

—— Two Cases of Sympathetic Ophthalmia distinguished by the Occurrence of Neuro-Retinitis, II. i. 284.

POPE, B. A. Contributions to Physiological Optics, I. 459.

—— Entoptic Phenomena connected with the Circulation of the Blood, I. 1.
